Further details on the legitimate interest balancing tests may be obtained by contacting us as set out at the end of this Privacy Policy.

LEGAL REQUIREMENTS

In addition to the above, your personal data may also be processed if it is necessary on reasonable request by a law enforcement or regulatory authority, body or agency or in the defence of a legal claim. We will not delete personal data if relevant to an investigation or dispute. It will continue to be stored until those issues are fully resolved.

AUTOMATED DECISION MAKING

We may make automated decisions on certain matters. For example, we may do this to decide whether we can provide our products to you based on fraud detection and creditworthiness checks. This will be informed by verification of your personal data (including by third parties). Depending on the outcome of these checks, a decision will be reached automatically as to whether we are able to provide products to you.

FAILURE TO PROVIDE PERSONAL DATA

Where we need to collect your personal data under the terms of a contract we have with you and you fail to provide that data when requested, we may not be able to perform the contract we have or are trying to enter into with you (for example to provide our products to you).

HOW LONG WE WILL KEEP YOUR PERSONAL DATA

We will keep your personal data for as long as it is reasonably necessary considering the purposes for which your personal data has been collected. It will depend on factors such as whether you have any outstanding purchases or an account with us or have interacted with recent offers. For further personal data on how long we will keep your personal data, please contact our privacy officer at Privacyofficer@CanadaGoose.com.

DISCLOSURE OF YOUR PERSONAL DATA

There are certain circumstances where we may transfer your personal data to affiliates, contractors and to other third parties.

- We may share personal data about you with other members of our group of companies so that we can provide the best service across our group. They are bound to keep and use your personal data in accordance with this Privacy Policy;
- We may also share your personal data with certain contractors, service providers or advisors that help with our business operations (for example, order fulfilment, cloud services, fraud prevention, customer services, payment processing and marketing) and they may process your personal data for us. They are always required to meet our standards on processing personal data and security. The personal data we provide them with, including your personal data, will only be provided in connection with the performance of their function;

- If we're discussing selling or transferring part or all of our business the personal data may be transferred to prospective purchasers under suitable terms as to confidentiality – or if sold, to buyers who can continue to provide products to you;
- We may also share your personal data where you have given us consent to do so or when we are otherwise required or permitted by law, for example by the Police or in defence of a legal claim.

INTERNATIONAL TRANSFERS OF DATA

Some of the parties that collect your personal data and third parties (e.g. suppliers, service providers and affiliates) to which we may disclose your personal data may be located in countries outside the European Economic Area (“EEA”) and the United Kingdom. As a result, your personal data may be transferred to, stored and/or processed in such other countries, including on servers located in such other countries. This includes countries that offer a lower level of protection for your personal data than countries in the EEA and the United Kingdom, including the United States.

Unless you have expressly consented to the transfer of personal data, the transfer is necessary for the performance of a contract with you or concluded in your interests or the transfer is otherwise permitted by applicable data protection laws we will only transfer your personal data to a country that is deemed to have an adequate level of protection under the applicable data protection law or otherwise where we have put in place adequate safeguards to protect the personal data. In particular where we send your personal data outside of the EEA and the United Kingdom, we shall only do so where the recipient of the personal data is subject to:

- binding corporate rules;
- standard data protection clauses approved under applicable law;
- an approved code of conduct; or
- an approved certification mechanism.

The transfer of your personal data to Canada Goose International AG, a Swiss entity, is permitted on the basis of the European Commission's decision that Switzerland provides an adequate level of protection for personal data. The transfer of your personal data to Canada Goose Inc., a Canadian entity, and our suppliers based in Canada, is permitted on the basis of the European Commission's decision that Canada provides an adequate level of protection for personal data. We also store personal data on cloud servers located in the United States. The transfer of this personal data is governed by a contract including standard contractual clauses approved by the European Commission, or by another approved safeguard.

Further details on the safeguards adopted by us may be obtained by contacting us as set out at the end of this Privacy Policy.

COOKIES, WEB BEACONS, TAGS AND OTHER SIMILAR TECHNOLOGIES

Our website (www.canadagoose.com) uses automatic data collection technology and services such as “cookies”, “web beacons”, “tags” and other similar technologies. A cookie is a small data file that is placed on the hard drive of your computer so that your computer will “remember” information when you visit a website. Web beacons and tags are small strings of code that are used in conjunction with a cookie and that allow us to record activity on our website. A web beacon allows us to capture certain additional types of information about a visitor's actions on a website, such as a visitor's cookie number, the time, date, duration and number of page views, a description of the page where the web beacon is placed, and details about any items that were purchased.

When you use our website, these technologies may record and collect personal data, such as information that identifies your computer, tracks your use of our website and collects certain information about you and your surfing habits. This information may include information that identifies your device, IP address, browser type and language preferences, and information about referring and exit pages and URLs, keywords, date and time, what sections of a website you visit, and other similar information concerning your use. This information is used for the purposes mentioned above and to help us serve you better by improving our website design, as well as our products, services, and promotions. We also use the technologies mentioned above to improve functionality of our website and user experience.

As noted, this Privacy Policy applies to all personal data collected and processed by us using cookies, web beacons and tags on our website.

When accessing our website, you are requested to consent to the use of cookies and similar techniques in accordance with our Privacy Policy. Should you change your mind at a later stage, you can easily change your “cookie settings” by changing the settings of your web browser (e.g. Internet Explorer, Google Chrome, Safari, etc.). For more information hereon, please refer to the ‘help’ section of your web browser and see below. If you do not consent to the use of cookies and similar techniques when accessing our website and/or when you turn off the use of cookies and similar techniques via your web browser settings later, you may still visit our website, but you may not be able to use some areas of the website and the website may not provide optimal functionality.

If you wish to block certain cookies, you can do so in the browser you are using by following the applicable link below:

Our website uses the web analytics service Google Analytics that is provided by Google, Inc., 1600 Amphitheatre Parkway, Mountain View, CA 94043, USA (“Google”). Google Analytics uses “cookies”. The information generated by the cookie on your use of the platform will be transmitted to and stored by Google on servers in the United States. We have activated the so called “IP-anonymization” which means that your IP address will be truncated within the area of the European Union or the EEA and the United Kingdom before being transferred to the United States. Only in exceptional cases the entire (ie. non-truncated) IP address will be transferred to a Google server in the US and truncated there. Google will use this information on our behalf for the purpose of evaluating your use of the platform, compiling reports on platform activity and providing other services relating to platform and internet usage. Google does not provide us with data that we may link back particularly to you. Your truncated IP address that is transferred to Google will not be associated with any other data held by Google. You may refuse accepting cookies by selecting the relevant settings of your browser. However, please note that if you do so you may not be able to use the full functionality of the platform.

To opt out of being tracked by Google Analytics across all websites, you can visit <http://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>.

Personal data obtained through cookies, web beacons and tags may be shared with or obtained by third party service providers on our behalf in accordance with applicable laws (cf. the section immediately below). In that case, the processing of this personal data may also be subject to the privacy policies of these third parties. We therefore highly recommend that you take due account of these privacy policies when using our website.

THIRD-PARTY ADVERTISING PARTNERS

We use third-party service providers to serve advertisements on our behalf across the internet. These advertising service providers may collect information about your visits to our website, and your interactions with our products and services. Such information does not include your name, address, email address or other similar personal data. Such providers may place and access their own cookies, tags, web beacons or similar technologies on your computer or device used to access the website to serve you ads or other content personalized to your interests. In addition to the information about your visits to our website, our service providers may also use the information about your visits to other websites to target advertisements for products and services available from Canada Goose.

As described above, you may reject the use of cookies when accessing our website and you may be able to set your browser to reject cookies later. In that case, you may still receive online advertising, but it may be less personalized.

“DO NOT TRACK” SIGNALS

Unless your browser settings are configured to make your online activities and publicly available information about your online activities (such as traffic data) invisible to usage analytics tools, we do not presently have the capability to omit you from usage analytics to the extent your browser only sends us a “do not track” signals or message and does not otherwise screen you from tracking without any action on our part.

Third parties, other than our vendors (such as our website analytics provider), do not have authorization from us to track which websites you visited prior and after visiting our website. That said, we cannot control third party tracking and there may be some third party tracking over time and across third-party websites that occurs without our knowledge or consent.

If you do not wish your online activities (on our website) to be tracked, we highly recommend to change your web browser settings. For more information hereon, please refer to the 'help' section of your web browser.

THIRD PARTY LINKS

Our website may contain links to other websites which are not under the control of Canada Goose. We are not responsible for the privacy practices or content of such other websites. We encourage our users to be aware when they leave our website and to read the privacy statements of each website to which we may link that may collect personal data.

SECURITY

We maintain technical, physical and administrative security safeguards to protect personal data against loss and any form of unlawful processing (such as theft and unauthorized access). Any personal data you provide to us is exchanged on a secure server. Furthermore, our website is secured by SSL-encryption to protect data from unauthorized access when transferring them over the Internet.

YOUR RIGHTS

Subject to local law, you may have certain rights in relation to your personal data such as a right to access and to correct the personal data we hold on you. If you would like to exercise, or discuss, any of these rights, please contact our privacy officer at Privacyofficer@CanadaGoose.com.

In particular, residents of the EEA and the United Kingdom may have the following rights which may not be available under the laws in your local jurisdiction:

- Right to withdraw consent: You can remove consent, where you have provided it, at any time, as well as update any of your opt-in marketing preferences by contacting us.
- Right of access: You are entitled to obtain from us details concerning the processing of your personal data and to receive a copy of the personal data we process about you (including in electronic form). Additional copies may be subject to a reasonable administrative fee.
- Right to rectification: You are entitled to have any incomplete and inaccurate personal data held by us rectified. If you have an account with our online store, you can log in and update your account personal data, including contact, billing and shipping personal data.
- Right to erasure ('to be forgotten'): In certain circumstances you are entitled to have personal data erased. If you request that we erase your personal data we shall advise you if we consider that there are on-going grounds permitting us to continue processing your personal data.

- Right to restrict processing: You can ask us to restrict the processing of personal data we hold about you in certain circumstances. We will advise you if we do not agree with your request to restrict processing and our reasons.
- Right to data portability: In certain circumstances you can ask us to help you move your personal data to other companies.
- Right to object: You are entitled to object to our collection, use of and otherwise processing of your personal data where the basis for the processing is our legitimate interests or the processing is in the public interest. You may object to processing for direct marketing purposes at any time.
- Right to complain: In the event that you have any questions, concerns or complaints regarding this Privacy Policy or the manner in which we collect, use and otherwise process your personal data we shall always seek to address the same promptly and to your satisfaction. However if you consider that we have not done so you are entitled to lodge a complaint with the relevant supervisory authority in your jurisdiction.

Some of these rights will only apply in certain circumstances however, such as the right to be forgotten or the right to request that we move your personal data to another company. For example, the right to be forgotten will not be available if there are outstanding contracts between us, if we are required by law to keep the personal data or if the personal data is relevant to a legal dispute.

UNSOLICITED COMMUNICATIONS

Canada Goose complies with applicable laws regarding unsolicited marketing messages (e.g. 'spam') and will not send you such messages in contravention of such laws. Our online store allows you to sign up and expressly consent to receiving electronic communications. We will ensure that each email includes an opt-out feature and instructions on how to un-subscribe if you no longer wish to receive future e-mails from us. You may also contact us at cesupport@canadagoose.com to stop receiving them or can unsubscribe using the link included in the e-mail. If you have not expressly opted-in to receiving electronic marketing communications, we will only communicate with you if we are otherwise entitled to do so by applicable law.

CHILDREN'S PRIVACY

Our website is not intended for use by children under the age of 13 (except when local law provides for a different age limit), and we do not knowingly collect personal data from such children through our website. If you are under 13 (or the age provided by local law), please do not give us any personal data. If we learn that we have collected the personal data of such a child we will take steps to delete the personal data as soon as possible.

CHANGES TO THIS PRIVACY POLICY

Canada Goose reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to change, modify, add or remove portions of this Privacy Policy at any time and from time to time. If we change anything important about this policy (the personal data we collect, how we use it or why), we will highlight those changes at the top of the policy and provide a prominent link to it for a reasonable length of time following the change. If you would like to access previous versions of this policy, please contact us using the details below.
